

Central Park Drive Cycleway

A new 300m long, 3.5m wide shared path along the eastern side of Central Park Drive in west Auckland. The project will provide a connection between the existing access point to the North-western Cycleway and an existing shared path at Universal Drive.

Benefits: Provides a 'missing link' to existing cycling facilities on Central Park Drive. The project is expected to increase cyclist numbers by providing an off-road option for those less confident riding on the road.

Total cost estimate: $0.48 million
